

INDUS Supports Artemis Consulting on NAVWAR BFM Contract Win

San Diego, CA - INDUS Technology, Inc. (INDUS) is pleased to announce its role as a subcontractor to Artemis Consulting, LLC on the recently awarded Naval Information Warfare Systems Command (NAVWAR) Business Financial Management (BFM) Support Services contract.

This task order provides acquisition, financial and cost estimating analysis to NAVWAR Headquarters and related PEO programs and projects. The scope includes a wide variety of BFM services including Congressional budgeting, resource programming and execution, forecasting, estimating, data analytics and training. This is an important effort that supports strategic financial decisions across numerous programs and projects at NAVWAR.

“We are proud to support Artemis, a trusted and valued strategic partner of INDUS, on this important BFM support services tasking,” said INDUS’ President and CEO Eric MacGregor. “We look forward to providing five years of dedicated financial and data-driven support to these initiatives.”

INDUS brings complementary capabilities to the Artemis team to enhance the Navy’s operational readiness and ensure continued excellence in financial management and technical support services across NAVWAR’s enterprise.
